

How Can ACAN Help ... You

How Can ACAN Help ... You

- You can post profiles on our website so people can find you.
- You can download and use an ACAN logo by logging in.
- You can receive RFPs from judges and lawyers sent to ACAN.
- You can have news about what you are doing (speeches, articles, awards) posted on ACAN's LinkedIn Page and reposted by ACAN followers
- You can receive a free 90-minute consultation with Daya Naef, a marketing expert, on developing a business plan.
- You can receive a monthly ACANews with the latest updates on the profession and how to members can provide service

How Can ACAN Help ... You

- You can participate in ACAN's First Wednesday Forums – a monthly remote member discussion group.
- If you (in a moment of foolishness) miss one, you can also watch recordings by logging in on ACAN website.
- You can talk too
- You can obtain discounts on registration for our great annual meeting – a clearinghouse for the judicial, legal practitioner, ADR and expert community
- You can receive access to member-only training
- You can benefit from partnerships has developed with dozens of other organizations involved in the administration of justice, which, in turn, leads to targeted speaking and publishing opportunities that we provide to our members.
- You can benefit from other showcase opportunities ACAN will be introducing to provide new ways that people who have not previously served as neutrals can introduce themselves and become known
- You can benefit from discount codes from ACAN partners.

How Can ACAN Help ... You

- You can join ACAN committees and become part of planning (and therefore participating participate) in professional development.
- You can become part of ACAN's speaker's bureau and list of media contacts
- You can become part of an incredibly warm and supportive community of professionals.
- You can become part of new special research programs ACAN is developing on how to make more effective use of CANs in courts and how to obtain data on their use.
- You can help to articulate the principles of ethics that will advance our profession.
- You can be part of a tremendously-exciting and fast-moving change in our thinking about how professionals can help courts and parties.

What Can ACAN Do For You??

You can do things for others

